

Sally Michel and Susan Daniels moved into Pointe apartment 272 on February 23rd.

Susan grew up in Charlestown, Illinois, and graduated from high school there. She earned a degree in math from Beloit College in 1961, and then an MS from the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago. She began working as a computer programmer with Swift Meat Packing but then joined the Peace Corps and was sent to Bolivia, where she taught math in the Engineering Department of the national university in La Paz. She next went to Quito, Ecuador, and then to Honduras. Back in the United States, she started the technology program and taught technology at the National Cathedral School for 21 years. In her spare time, she enjoys birding, swimming, yoga, and reading nonfiction.

Sally grew up in Los Altos, California, and graduated from Los Altos High School in 1959. In 1963 she graduated from Mt. Holyoke with a degree in English. During her 40's she earned an MA in English at Georgetown University. She taught at a private school for girls in Potomac, Maryland, for 27 years, with the last 7 years spent as head of the upper school. She has visited Goodwin House for several years as part of the Caring Ministry Program at her church. She enjoys traveling and cites Cuba, before it opened to tourism, and the wintering site of monarch butterflies in Michoacan, Mexico, as two of her favorite trips. She also enjoys summers in Minnesota, swimming, birding, and reading “well written fiction.”
